"One day," M. Thiers says, "the two Emperors, on returning from a long ride, shut themselves up in the writing cabinet. Napoleon, apparently continuing a conversation briskly begun with Alexander, desired M. de Meneval to bring him the map of Turkey, unfolded it, then resumed the conversation, and, suddenly clapping his finger on Constantinople, exclaimed several times, regardless of being heard by his secretary, in whom he had absolute confidence, 'Constantinople! Never! 'Tis the empire of the world!' "

Many mothers are either compelled to stay away from church and theatre, or take their babies with them. A poor woman took her little one in her arms to hear a famous preacher. The loud voice from the platform awoke the child and made it cry, and its mother got up and was leaving the hall, when the minister stopped her by saying: "My good woman, don't go away. The baby doesn't disturb me." "It isn't for that, sir, I leave," she replied with a moved into it, and are ready to pledge their perfect unconsciousness of sarcasm: "It's you disturb the baby."

LOCAL MATTERS.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A LADY.-Miss Helen A. Miller, of Logansport, Ind., died suddenly at Ford's Hotel night before last, or early yesterday morning. She came to the hotel from a train on the night of the 16th instant. Her behavior was ladylike and prepossessing, but she had little conversation with any one, and as far as is known every morning after breakfast to take a seemed to be well and cheerful.
